Question

Is it true?

That as soon as you witness the dance of a wild flower, sorrow is swept away.

Release

An echo announces the cracking, bewilderment in your eyes.
The heart has been bled dry,
stripped of all resistance.
May I give in to compassion at last.

Gratitude

Stop.
Feel the tear roll,
cheek to chin.
Time has never been so rightly used.

Beyond

Cool mysteriousness
that knows without words,
seasons without time.

Haiku

Blessed my karma
that I could share again
a moment with you

Backtrace

Although contentment may go and the song of crickets fade, know you'll always return
if you follow the left trail.

Bliss

As I walk
I cannot find ill will in any step.
Now, I am truly free.

Faith

There is no path
to be revealed.
You've been on it
since the beginning.
Nothing will ever be certain,
trust, your feet will know how to walk.

Spring

Just like the flower,
I cultivate my heart
in the hope that someday,
it may blossom.

Thank you for reading

If these words touched something in you, your support allows me to continue on this path.
